The Vale band gave a concert in the park Tuesday evening, boosting the Pioneers' Day Celebration at Vale tomorrow, and the Better Babies Contest, on this week. Everyone was invited to come to Vale for the Better Babies Show and also for the celebration Friday. U. S. Senators Harry Lane and George E. Chamberlain will be on hand to speak and a big program will occupy the whole day. A barbecue will be held at noon to which all are invited.

The band gave an excellent though short program. About three hundred Ontario people were in the park to listen to the concert.

WHAT TO RAISE.

Farmers should raise the things to which their farms, their markets and themselves are adapted. They would better study how to raise the most and best of these things than to scatter their energies over a great variety of products merely to keep from buying them. The men who follow the right policy usually have cash enough to get what they need from other farmers who can produce it cheapest. There was a time when farmers were compelled to grow or make about everything they needed, but that day has long gone by. It is good business to raise things—but the right things. The scatteration plan involves neglect of some of these things without a corresponding gain in raising others.—National Stockman and Farmer.

Homer's Birthplace.

Chios is the most probable birthplace of Homer and shows the blind bard's cradle, school, house and tomb. Near the poet's alleged "school," says the Pall Mall Gazette, is a little wine shop bearing across the front the coining saying of Hecuba to Hector, "Wine doth vastly increase the strength of a weary man." Although almost exterminated by the terrible massacre of 1822, the people of Chios are the most prosperous in the Levant. Nearly all leading Greek bankers and merchants hail from this island, and the well known families of Ralli and Rodocanachi are of Chiot origin.

Why It's "Horse" Chestnut.

A generally accepted reason why the horse chestnut is so called is on account of the resemblance to a horse shoe that is to be found when the twigs of the tree are sliced obliquely. In the south we may admire the bloom of this early flowering tree, but in the north, in certain parts of Yorkshire, dothens pay more regard to the nut, which, when grated, they hold to be an infallible cure for whooping cough.—London Chronicle.

WORK TEAMS AND WEATHER.

"If it rains for several days you do not stay in the house or in bed all the time, do you?"

"Certainly not; you have work to do. But if you had to stay in it would be bad for you."

"It's just the same with the work teams. They need exercise in order to begin, when the weather clears, properly rested."

"A pasture is the best place for them if it is not actually raining, and exercise in box stalls or under a covered shed in the barnyard will be almost as good. Let them stretch their legs."—Farm and Fireside.

'SALAMBO' COMING TO DREAMLAND SAT.

Salambo, daughter of Amilcar, ruler of Carthage, and Priestess of Tanit, is the keeper of the Sacred Veil, "on which human eyes must not gaze." She falls in love with Matho, a slave, who becomes the leader of a band of mercenaries, fighting for Carthage, against Rome. Matho steals the sacred veil and Salambo is ordered by the priests to reclaim it. The lovers meet in Matho's tent and Salambo recovers the Sacred Veil. Matho is made a prisoner by the Carthaginians through the treachery of Narr Havaas, who is rewarded by Amilcar for his treachery by the hand of his daughter, Salambo.
